++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Remaining settled and largely dry, with overnight frosts.

Today:

A cold and clear start, with sunshine through the morning. Patchy fair-weather cloud will develop in the afternoon, bringing a slight risk of light showers in eastern parts. Feeling pleasant in the sun, helped by light winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:

The afternoon's patchy cloud will clear through the evening leaving a dry night with many clear spells. Cold again, with a widespread frost and a few fog patches possible. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Friday:

Plenty of early sunshine on Friday before patchy cloud develops again. It should remain dry, and another clear and frosty night will follow. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:

Dry throughout, with many sunny spells and variable amounts of cloud. Daytime temperatures gradually rising but frosts still possible. Risk of some overnight fog patches.
